Screen-Printed Lanyards

About CMYK & Multi-colored Screen Printing Lanyard

Screen printing is also named silk screen printing. It is a process to make a mesh screen first with your design, lay the screen on the surface of fabric and apply coloured ink over the screen, then push the ink through the screen and so to create the design onto the fabric.

Screen printing is available on polyester/nylon/cotton materials. It is hand-made process and this have allowed us with top, stable quality.

Screen-Printed Nylon Lanyards

Descipton: Very similar to the woven satin label lanyard.

Materials: Flat polyester and satin

Applications: while similar to the woven satin label lanyard, screen printing the label results in an even higher quality label, as it is not woven, and therefore softer and more shiny

About Heated-Transferred Lanyards

Heated-transfer is a top quality printing process to create long lasting, multi colored design which is not possible with screen printing. Heated-transfer is to print the design onto paper using dye sublimation inks and then be laid on the surface of lanyard. When heat and pressure are applied, the design on paper is transferred onto the fabric.

Woven-logo Satin Lanyards

Imprinted or woven-logo lanyard sewn onto our popular one-ply flat polyester material, this allows for a two-tone look at the edges.

With the retractable badge reeler, you can conveniently extend your keys or magnetic card or cell phone directly without taking off your lanyard. The reeler can be in the shape of square or round or else shape, such as heart-shape. Most of the reelers are made of vinyl, and they can be in solid color or in translucent color. On the top of the reeler, there can be a sticker with your own logo.

Stitched On The Strap

Come behind the scene on all our adventures and see how we live the moment, check out all of our social media feeds in one place :) Using the camera strap has less to do with convenience as it does with keeping the camera from being accidentally lost, easily stolen, or permanently damaged when dropped. Get in the habit of keeping the strap around your neck, wrist or shoulder when taking photos to avoid all these pitfalls. <https://chixber.en.alibaba.com>
